GENESIS OF NOMADIC CATTLE-BREEDING IN THE NORTH BLACK-SEA AREA

The analysis of archaeological materials give us the opportunity to suggest the thesis that the transformation of the complex economy into the special cattle-breeding one with the nomadic life, was the result of the structural changes in the economy of the bearers of Bilozerka culture. This process caused the change of traditional model of the steppe economy with the division of labor in the community into the new one with the intercommunity division of labor.
